MEDICAL AND SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS

OF THE AGE.

A few words of explanation to the constant readers of this paper are advisable in order to remove the perhaps natural belief that the widely-extended notices published regarding the Graefenberg Medical Institution of New-York relate only to what femberg Medical Institution of New-York relate only to what are ordinarily denominated patent or quack medicines.

The Grasfenberg Medical Institution, though making the preparation and sale of reliable Family Medicines the leading feature of its establishment, differs from all others in the fact that it is organized under special legislative authority from the State of New-York, thus rendering it a responsible and trustworthy institution, varying widely from the general catchpenny things so plausibly offered to the public as cure-alls in the form of medicine. Though only about fifteen years have elspeed from its commencement, the Grasfenberg Medical Institution has become one of the most widely known and firmly established in the country, and, with its reputation for skill, integrity and confidence, may safely challenge comparison with any other medical organization in the world.

Being sware that all advertised articles are liable to the suspicion of interested motives, and knowing that most medical ad-would promote private ends at the expense of the public good.

To use the words of the correspondent, "scientific as well as practical observation con correspondent, "scientific as well as practical observation con vinces us that an allwise Providence has supplied in the vegeta ble kingdom and in simple forms, remedies for every disease in-cident to humanity." The celebrated English reformer, Gra-ham, says: "Man endeavors to effect his ends by multiplied and ham, says: "Man endeavors to effect his ends by multiplied and complicated measures, forgetting that God accomplishes the most mighty ends by simple means, most of which He has placed at the disposal of inquiring men." "It is because of their com-plicated prescription, and ponderous machinery that people have lost so much faith in medical schools, and it is precisely because of their simple and natural methods of cure that the Graefenberg of their simple and partital methods of circ that the orderenberg theory and practice has become so universally popular with the people, and is so rapidly gaining the entire confidence of the greatest medical intellects throughout the civilized world. The Graefenberg medical preparations, guided by true science, have far into the shade."

who has already served a term in the Penitentiary, having been sent there in 1856 by Judge Capron, was tried and convicted of grand larceny to-day, in practicing the shoplithing game, in company with one Julius B. Openheim. She was remanded until Friday.

Ottanian Buchler was sent to the Penitentiary for one year, on a conviction for receiving stolen goods. John Henshaw and John Stephens, two thieves, who nave just returned from the Penitentiary, testified that they stole some boxes of candles and soda from John Shiegel, No. 29 Norfolk street, and found a very ready sale at Buchler's, No. 4 Norfolk street.

John Hopkins pleaded guilty of grand larceny, and was sent to the State Prison for two years.

Three young burglars, James Broderick, John Kelly, and Frank Mooney, were brought to the bar for burglary in the first degree. The two first named pleaded guilty of an attempt to commit that offense and were sent to the State Prison for three years each. Mooney was sent there for one year.

Daniel McCormick, snother young thief, was sent to the House of Refuge.

John Regan pleaded guilty of an attempt to commit rape, and was sent to the State Prison for five years. Instead of an "attempt," the crime was setually committed, the victim of the brutal fellow being a little girl, seven years of age.

Adrian Merriott was treed and convicted of receiving stolen goods. Frederick Hubner, a young man who has just returned from the Penitentiary, teetified against the defendant, as being the receiver of goods that were stolen by himself. Remanded.

PART II.—Before Judge Russmith.

Adolphus Ranney, the gift-book man, who not long since had a very large, heavily stocked gift-book man, who not long since had a very large, heavily stocked gift-book store, opposite Stewart's, and who has since carried on the same business at a shop near Comil street, was today brought out for sentence. The Pleasant Hay was a fine vessel of 30 tams, built at Essen three years ago. She was valued at $3,800, and was insured for $3,300. The master, Wm. H. Gaze, belonged to this town, and was married. Wm. Hodgkins, one of the crew, was also married, and belonged to Gloucester. Four others belonged to Beverly, and of the remainder of the crew, nothing is known. This is the fifth vessel that has been lost, with all their crews, in the Georges fishery, since January. Within some 30 years, over 30 vessels and 2,000 men have been lost in this hazardous branch of the fishing business. Nothing definite can ever be known of the fate of mariners who sail from port for Georges, never to return. Although hopes of their safety are always entertained until hope can hold out no longer, it is remarkable that no vessel or crew ever returned after having been absent for five or six weeks.

bullocks, and they were almost universally of good, fair quality for the retail trade of city butchers. There were not as many extra fine cattle in market this week as last, but quite enough to satisfy the wants of our first-class butchers, and they got them generally at lower rates than at any tane herotofore. A few were rated, both by buyer and seller, at 9; cents a pound for the net weight of beef but, in our opinion, the number sold for that price to sood paying customers, upon actual weights could all be counted within a hundred. In fact, we know that good droves of fat Illinois Steers, both corn-fed ones, and those from distilleries, could be picked at 8c. a pound not. That is, bullocks that would give a great yield of tellow, and 8 cert of beef in the quarters, were sold at 872, and often less. In fact, some very fair quality of fat 8 cers were sold at no fraction of a cent over 8c. a pound for the neat-some that cost their owners, on contracts made last fail and Winter, 4c a pound goes weight, in Kentucky and Illinois, and have cost ic, a pound for get them here and solid.

Two causes were assigned for the dailness of the market on Thereday, both of which in our opinion, were unreal. One was "the great trot," which did attract a good many butchers, but not till after they had supple time to visit the market in the formeon, and that was as dull as any part of the day. Another reason was the heat of the weather. It was the first real Summer day—but that reason will not do. The true reason is the market was overstocked last week. There were over 4,750 heat of beauty to the want any this week; and nany others we noticed who usually buy four took only two or three, while those who are always and any others we noticed who usually buy four took only two or three, while those only six or seven,
